INVADER QUATTRO X

FROM R445 000

Tow a trailer, Camp in a Caravan.

The Quattro X is an offroad trailer that easily stores in a single garage, which transforms into an almost 6 meter 4-sleeper camper, with the push of a button!

With even more space, a bigger and easier accessible main bed, loads of extra tech and best of all, the new Quattro X opens and closes with an automated roof-lifting system. Camping has never been this easy and comfortable.

Keeping the tough and still light ber body which can handle the most demanding offroad trails, and adding more comforts than the previous Quattro models, the Quattro X has everything you need to take your family on those off-the-grid adventures, or to your favourite caravan parks, camping in absolute comfort and style.

What customers say about the Invader Quattro Trailer?

"I borrowed a friend's Invader Quattro off-road trailer to take on holiday to the Richtersveld and it handled like a dream. The roads were very rough and we did a lot of heavy off-road driving, but the Quattro remained a steady companion behind my Land Rover. Setting up camp with the Quattro is very easy and the kitchen and all the other accessories are close at hand. Whoever designed this off-road trailer must have been a camper or an outdoors person. They got the design just right. Well done Invader!"
